SOUND – DESIGN SPECIFICATIONS

FRAME AND WOOD

- Sound is constructed in sustainably harvested Sapele – a Teak like species with very smooth even grain and excellent weathering characteristics.
- The Sound frame is finished with German made Osmo outdoor decking oil. Osmo is a breathable high-performance oil-based finish with UV and moisture protection. It is not a film coating and will not peel or crack over time. This finish may be easily “refreshed” in the field with simple tools (rag and/or brush).
- Sapele is naturally resistant to cracking and rot. It will patina to a darker color in time though the rich brown and red tones may be preserved through refreshing the oil coating occasionally.
- Sound’s frame are constructed with stainless steel fasteners to inhibit rust.
- All pieces share the same generous comfortable ergonomic profile. Sample pieces are available for review and your “sit test.” Contact Txtur to arrange a viewing.

CUSHIONS AND FABRICS

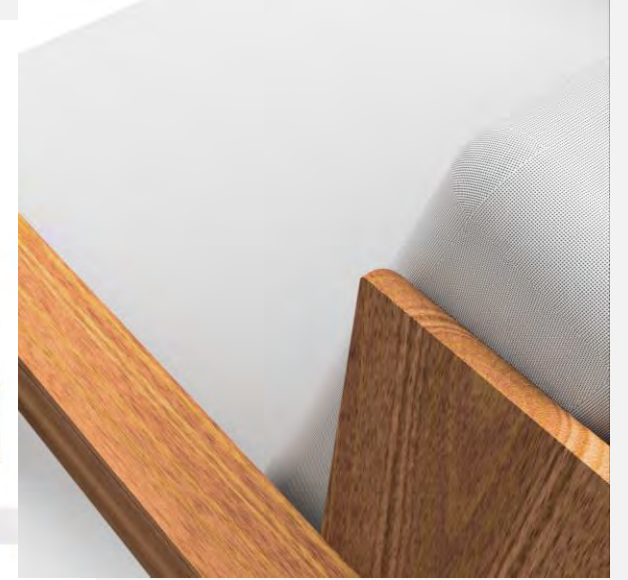

- Seat and back cushions come standard with reticulated “flow through” cushion cores. This special outdoor foam allows water to flow through and speeds drying.
- If you would like to use Sound in a covered location where cushions are protected from water exposure, standard HR foam cores may be substituted.
- Seat and back cushions are all reversible and include tie straps.
- Pricing includes production in Valdese Weavers “Inside Out” fabrics suitable for outdoor use. These domestically made performance fabrics have the look and feel of designer indoor fabrics – paired with fiber and construction capable of withstanding water and UV exposure. Your Txtur contact is happy to share samples to assist your selection.
- Upon request Sunbrella fabrics may be quoted for your selection.

A Stunning Outdoor Lounge Line

"Named after iconic ocean inlets, the Sound collection invokes thoughts of outdoor living. The design has two primary achievements: ergonomic comfort and a simple yet memorable aesthetic.

Unlike many outdoor lounge pieces currently on the market, Sound has both seat and back pitch, which greatly increases ergonomic comfort. I incorporated this without compromising the clean, perpendicular lines of the solid Sapele frame."
